Meet some of the team at ISPOR EU - November 2–6, 2013

Adelphi Values has been defining outcomes research and delivering client solutions since 1993. Our global team includes PRO, ClinRO and ObsRO experts, value consultants, healthcare researchers, health economists, statisticians, psychometricians, creative scientists, clinicians, and strategists with a genuine client perspective.

Since 1993, Adelphi Values has been solving client challenges and improving patients’ lives by informing healthcare decisions. The team has delivered a wide range of projects across numerous therapeutic areas, published in countless peer reviewed journals and presented at industry leading conferences. With the breadth to understand and the depth to deliver, we excel at investigating and communicating healthcare value - with scientific excellence and commercial acumen, throughout the product lifecycle.

Adelphi will be exhibiting at ISPOR, so come along to stand 95-97 to meet some of the team and talk about your challenges. Alternatively why not contact us to set up a confidential meeting in advance?

For more information on Adelphi Values or our global team of experts, please visit www.adelphivalues.com

There is no substitute for experience